

Greetings in Christ! If you teach or write about the Catholic Faith and want to be the best you can be...

Amazing Catechists* needs you! The attached questionnaire will be used to develop content for the new website and on-line forum in English and Spanish (coming soon!), www.amazingcatechists.com. Amazing Catechists seeks to breathe new life into the religious formation of Catholic children, teens and adults. Amazing Catechists are sacramentally active, loyal to the Magisterium of the Catholic Church and persevering humbly, day-by-day, in their relationships with Jesus Christ.

How is Amazing Catechists.com different from other on-line forums? That's easy. Like other forums, our membership is FREE, but we offer much more:

1. In addition to our discussion forum we'll have a FREE point-and-click archive available to all our members – categorized by grade-level – in which real catechists share their wisdom, insight, techniques and ideas for everyone to use, in language you don't need a degree to understand.
2. In addition, when you register, you'll be able to download a FREE GIFT in .pdf; my booklet, The Grace to Be Amazing: 5 Tips For Bringing Vitality and Staying Power to Your Catechism Lessons!
3. Every month you'll get tons of FREE information you can use to bring new life to your lessons:
 - a. Columns and stories of interest to catechists everywhere – in English and Spanish – written by catechists themselves; again, in straightforward language.
 - b. Inspiring interviews and profiles of teachers and youth ministers, and students who have been touched by great teaching
 - c. We'll also provide links to many other sites with great, FREE resources.

Columnists and all other contributors will find that publishing in on-line venues is a great way to show your work and develop other, paying markets for your writing. Those who think of yourselves as “non-writers,” please compose material to submit in your own natural style, much as you would write a letter to a friend. Trust in the Holy Spirit to use each idea, story, lesson plan, activity or insight to help bring souls into the Heart of Christ.

I am also looking for a selection of tips and anecdotes for a chapter in my book – a lay-volunteer's guide to teaching religion to children – under consideration at a major Catholic publisher. If your tip or anecdote is published in my book, you will be credited for your contribution and will receive two autographed copies upon publication.

If you have created a website, blog or other on-line resource that would fit or supplement our mission, please feel free to submit your URL. We'd love to link up to you and we hope you will link up to us!

I am looking forward to hearing from you very soon! Please pray for our mission and feel free to pass this email along to everyone you know who teaches the Faith!

Blessings in Christ through Mary,

Share Your Favorite Tips for Teaching the Faith

Where appropriate, discuss grade level, environment (home, parish, school), learning styles, discipline issues and tell us what you did (and do), what it costs (if pertinent) and how you know it is successful (what feedback or assessments tell you the technique or lesson is working). If you have implemented a new program, describe it in the same terms. Share as few or as many tips as you like. Also, feel free to email me at other times when you have more to share!

X

Share Anecdotes That Uplift, Entertain or Educate

For the sake of others teaching the Faith, share occurrences in your classes which you handled or reacted to, interesting or amusing things the children said, insights you discovered during a lesson, problems that were occasions of grace that might be a source of encouragement or simply provide enjoyment to other teachers and parents. Sharing our stories helps us to build community and lifts us all up.
